Christina Latham-Koenig, Clive Oxenden English File

Учебно-методические материалы для самостоятельной работы обучающихся из числа инвалидов и лиц с ограниченными возможностями здоровья (ОВЗ) предоставляются в формах, адаптированных к ограничениям их здоровья и восприятия информации:

Для лиц с нарушениями зрения:

- в печатной форме увеличенным шрифтом,
- в форме электронного документа,

Для лиц с нарушениями слуха:

- в печатной форме,
- в форме электронного документа.

Для лиц с нарушениями опорно-двигательного аппарата:

– в форме аудиофайла.

Данный перечень может быть конкретизирован в зависимости от контингента обучающихся.

Методические указания по организации самостоятельной работы студентов по направлению подготовки 45.03.03 Фундаментальная и прикладная лингвистика, утвержденные кафедрой прикладной лингвистики и новых информационных технологий, протокол № 9 от 22 мая 2015 г.

Учебным планом предусмотрена самостоятельная работа студентов (проработка и повторение материала учебников и учебных пособий, подготовка к лабораторным занятиям, подготовка к домашнему и дополнительному чтению). Работая самостоятельно, студенты изучают как основную, так и дополнительную литературу, рекомендованную преподавателем. Таким образом, студенты закрепляют пройденный на занятиях материал, углубляя практические навыки владения языком, самостоятельно находят дополнительные, представляющие интерес, сведения по изучаемым темам. Преподаватель контролирует самостоятельную работу студентов, заслушивая их на занятиях.

Методические рекомендации к лабораторным занятиям по дисциплине «Первый иностранный язык» для студентов по направлению подготовки 45.03.03 Фундаментальная и прикладная лингвистика, утвержденные кафедрой прикладной лингвистики и новых информационных технологий, протокол № 9 от 22 мая 2015 г.

Основным видом занятий являются лабораторные занятия, на которых студенты овладевают более сложными лексическими, грамматическими и стилистическими нормами изучаемого языка; закрепляют правила чтения и правописания, увеличивают свой словарный запас, совершенствуют умение логически верно, аргументировано и ясно строить устную и письменную речь, стилистически анализировать тексты, а также развивают навыки аналитического мышления, умения вести дискуссию на различные темы, выражать и отстаивать свою точку зрения. Также студенты оттачивают навыки аудирования и устной речи. При работе над текстами важная роль отводится интерпретации и анализу, обсуждению и умению доказать и отстоять свою точку зрения.

3. Образовательные технологии.

Рекомендуемые образовательные технологии: дебаты, мозговой штурм, групповые, творческие проекты, эссе, дискуссии, ролевая учебная игра, метод малых групп. В процессе обучения предусматривается закрепление и систематическое повторение материала, что выражается в постоянном взаимодействии преподавателя со студентами.

При проведении занятий рекомендуется использование активных и интерактивных форм занятий (прослушивание диалогов, разбор конкретных грамматических примеров, ситуаций, творческие, групповые проекты, презентации, эссе, иные формы) в сочетании с внеаудиторной работой. Удельный вес занятий, проводимых в интерактивных формах, должен составлять не менее 60% аудиторных занятий в 7 семестре, и 60% - в восьмом.

Для лиц с ограниченными возможностями здоровья предусмотрена организация консультаций с использованием электронной почты.

4. Оценочные средства для текущего контроля успеваемости и промежуточной аттестации.

Оценочным средством для текущего контроля успеваемости является устный и письменный опрос на занятиях, а также различные формы оценочных средств; для промежуточной аттестации – билеты к экзамену.

Тест № 1

- 1. Answer the following questions: Why do we call [e] front and [a:] back? What advice regarding lip position and tongue position would you give your fellow-student who pronounces the Russian [y] instead of the English [u]? Characterize sounds [au, ei, o:]. How should the sound [au] be articulated?

Flash mobs – a new kind of event

In 2003, an unusually large number of customers arrived without warning in the carpet department of Macy's Department Store in New York. The assistants couldn't see why all of them were so interested in buying exactly the same carpet. In 2006, 4,000 people arrived with MP3 players and headsets at a London railway station and started dancing at a set time. As no music could be heard, this looked very strange. Police were even called to make sure that trains continued to run on time, but when they arrived the dancers had gone. In March 2013, more than 2,000 people gathered in Seoul, South Korea, complete with musical instruments, and started to dance. Many were students from Sungsin Girls' High School – they joined other Earth Hour supporters and collected a staggering 150,000 signatures from local citizens in support of the campaign. In Korea, an estimated 12 million people participated in Earth Hour 2013. These are three examples of 'flash mob' events, when a crowd of people suddenly come together in a public place, perform an unusual action, and disappear as quickly as they had appeared. They are organized using electronic media such as mobile phones or the internet.

To their fans, flash mobs are simply a chance to have some light-hearted, if rather silly, fun. However, when just under 2,000 people got together in San Francisco for an enormous pillow fight, it ended up costing thousands of dollars. Unfortunately, a heavy rainstorm meant that the city was left covered with wet feathers, which caused streets, shops, and a restaurant to be flooded, and ruined the local fountain. It took several days to put the damage right. Norman Dito, head of the city's Recreation and Park Department said, 'In future, organizers of such events should apply for permission beforehand and pay the standard fee to cover security, insurance, and cleaning up afterwards. Sadly, I think this is unlikely to happen, since nobody knows who the organizers are, or when or where a flash mob will take place next'.

Crimes associated with flash mobs are rare, but occasionally make international headlines. Sometimes referred to as 'flash robs' by the media, these start with the intent to destroy, or lead to the destruction of private property or violence. Professor of Psychology Mark Leary explains that as social media adds the ability to recruit a large number of people, individuals who would not rob a store on their own feel freer to misbehave without being identified. In Germany, the authorities in some cities have taken things even further by strictly enforcing an already-existing law that says a special permit must be obtained to use a public space for any event. The shop assistants in Macy's didn't understand

7. Методические указания для обучающихся по освоению дисциплины (модуля) «Первый иностранный язык».

Основным видом занятий являются лабораторные занятия, на которых студенты овладевают более сложными лексическими, грамматическими и стилистическими нормами изучаемого языка; закрепляют правила чтения и правописания, увеличивают свой словарный запас, совершенствуют умение логически верно, аргументировано и ясно строить устную и письменную речь, стилистически анализировать тексты, а также развивают навыки аналитического мышления, умения вести дискуссию на различные темы, выражать и отстаивать свою точку зрения. Также студенты оттачивают навыки аудирования и устной речи. Для этой цели в курсе предусмотрено большое количество упражнений на Listening, Speaking and Discussion. При работе над текстами важная роль отводится интерпретации и анализу, обсуждению и умению доказать и отстоять свою точку зрения.

Кроме лабораторных занятий учебным планом предусмотрена самостоятельная работа студентов (проработка и повторение материала учебников и учебных пособий, подготовка к лабораторным занятиям, подготовка к домашнему и дополнительному чтению). Работая самостоятельно, студенты изучают как основную, так и дополнительную литературу, рекомендованную преподавателем. Таким образом, студенты закрепляют пройденный на занятиях материал, углубляя практические навыки владения языком, самостоятельно находят дополнительные, представляющие интерес, сведения по изучаемым темам. Преподаватель контролирует самостоятельную работу студентов, заслушивая их на занятиях.

В освоении дисциплины инвалидами и лицами с ограниченными возможностями здоровья большое значение имеет индивидуальная учебная работа (консультации) – дополнительное разъяснение учебного материала.

Индивидуальные консультации по предмету являются важным фактором, способствующим индивидуализации обучения и установлению воспитательного контакта между преподавателем и обучающимся инвалидом или лицом с ограниченными возможностями здоровья.
